This enables individuals to conduct original research through a doctoral programme in the fields of Economics, History and	Economics, History and Civilization, Law, Political and Social Sciences	One call per year, submission deadline is usually 31 January.

	Civilisation, Law, and Political and Social Sciences. Candidates from member countries adhering to the EUI convention may apply. They must meet the degree requirements set by the national grant authorities.
Gerda Henkel Stiftung	The funding period for doctoral fellows of the foundation is up to two years. In justified cases, it is possible to apply for an extension of the fellowship for up to a further twelve months before the end of the second funding year. Basic monthly fellowship amount: 1,600 Euros. If applicable, plus family allowance: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- for one child: 400 Euros</li> <li>- each additional child: 100 Euros</li> </ul> The family supplement is granted until the child reaches the age of 18. If applicable, flat-rate monthly foreign allowance: 400 Euros Travel funds: as required Material means: as required	Historical humanities, especially archaeology, historical sciences, historical islamic studies, history of art, history of law, prehistory and early history, history of science	Doctoral fellowship: at any time. The foundation's committees decide on the awarding of fellowships at four dates per year. The processing time of a complete application is a maximum of six months. Grants: The foundation committees decide twice a year on the awarding of grants. The application deadline for the fall meeting of the foundation committees in 2023 is May 17, 2023.
Hans-Böckler-Stiftung	Funding is available to doctoral researchers of all disciplines who are academically particularly qualified and committed to trade unions or socio-political issues and who have been admitted to doctoral studies at a state or state-recognized university. The age limit is 40 years. The study and examination results must show a special aptitude for scientific work. Official proof of successful completion of the studies entitling the holder to a doctorate is required for the application. A prerequisite for funding is a speedy course of study. If possible, the doctoral project	All disciplines	For a funding start between November 2023 and February 2024 (always on the 1st of a month). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Application period February 15 to May 31, 2023.</li> </ul> For a funding start between May and August 2024 (always on the 1st of a month) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Application period August 15 to November 02, 2023.</li> </ul>

The duration of the funding is usually up to 3 years for doctoral researchers and two years for postdocs, in addition there are short-term funding opportunities. In addition, there is the possibility to work as a student or research assistant at the institution during the qualification phase (Master's/PhD)		website and via the usual mailing lists and Internet portals.
Stiftung der Deutschen Wirtschaft – Studienförderwerk Klaus Murmann	The aim of the “Stiftung der Deutschen Wirtschaft” is to promote entrepreneurial thinking in accordance with social responsibility. To this end, the “Förderwerk Klaus Murmann” supports high-achieving doctoral researchers at the beginning of their doctorate (final funding is not possible!) who take on social responsibility and actively help shape solutions for society. All disciplines are welcome. Funding is available to German and foreign early career researchers who have been admitted to a doctoral programme at a university in Germany, Switzerland or another EU country. However, a full doctorate outside Germany will only be funded if active, regular participation in a “Stipendiatengruppe” can be credibly assured (“Stipendiatengruppen” outside Germany exist in London, Paris, Zurich and Vienna). If you are unsure whether you are eligible to apply, please contact the foundation in advance! Duration of funding: 24 months; extension by up to 12 months possible. Funding amount: 1,350 Euros per month and, if applicable, additional benefits (family/child allowance, subsidies for travel and living	All disciplines	Two calls per year, the dates are usually announced towards the end of the previous year. expenses for projects abroad, subsidies for tuition fees, etc.).

Studienstiftung des deutschen Volkes	The “Studienstiftung des deutschen Volkes” supports highly qualified and socially committed doctoral researchers of all disciplines with a doctoral fellowship. Provided that the project is carried out at a German university, citizenship is irrelevant. In justified cases, doctoral studies abroad (i.e. also doctoral studies at Swiss universities) can also be funded; however, this usually requires German citizenship OR a university entrance qualification acquired in Germany. If you are unsure whether you are eligible to apply, please contact the foundation in advance! Duration of funding: 24 months; extension by up to 12 months (or by up to 24 months for doctoral candidates with children) possible. Funding amount: 1,450 Euros per month and, if applicable, additional benefits (family/child allowance, subsidies for travel and living expenses for projects abroad, subsidies for tuition fees, etc.).	All disciplines	Anytime

Political Fellowships

Funding	Description	Eligible Disciplines	Dates
Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung (SPD)	The Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung (FES) is committed to the fundamental values of social democracy and in this sense represents freedom, justice and solidarity. The FES also upholds the principle of equal opportunity when awarding fellowships: special consideration is given to doctoral candidates who are first-generation students or have an immigrant background. There is no official age limit; however, the doctorate is expected to follow quickly on from a rapidly completed course of study (exceptions in justified cases). Fellowship holders receive 1,350 Euros per month. In addition, there is a monthly research allowance of 100 Euros. We provide funding for two, maximum three years. The FES also awards family and child allowances.	All disciplines, except for medicine	Anytime
Friedrich-Naumann-Stiftung (FDP)	The liberal Friedrich Naumann Foundation has been awarding fellowships since 1973. On the basis of liberalism, the foundation considers – in addition to financial support – value-oriented, political educational work in the form of non-material support for fellowship holders to be its main task. There is no official age limit.	All disciplines, except human medicine or dentistry. Lawyers can only apply for a doctoral fellowship if they have already completed their legal clerkship or it begins following their doctorate.	Applications may be submitted by May 15 and November 15 of each year.
Heinrich-Böll-Stiftung (Die Grünen)	The Green Heinrich Böll Foundation represents the fundamental values of ecology and sustainability, democracy and human rights, self-determination and justice. It advocates non-violence and an active peace policy. Special consideration is given to doctoral candidates with an immigrant background, doctoral candidates who have a first-generation academic educational background, women in subjects in which they are underrepresented, and doctoral candidates from STEM fields, law, economics, the arts, and those who conduct research on the foundation's priority topics. There is no official age limit for applicants.
Konrad-Adenauer-Stiftung (CDU)	The Konrad Adenauer Foundation is committed to consolidating democracy, promoting European unification, intensifying transatlantic relations and cooperation on development policy. It pursues the ideals of peace, freedom and justice. Doctoral candidates may be up to 32 years old at the time of application. The age limit increases to 34 if the candidate has personal custody of a child under the age of 12 and lives in a household with that child. The degree qualifying for the doctorate must not have been completed more than 5 years ago. The funding period is two years and must be used for at least 12 months. An additional extension of one year can be applied for due to child rearing of a child up to 12 years of age.	All subjects except human medicine and dentistry.	Applications are due April 15, July 15 and December 15.
Rosa-Luxemburg-Stiftung (Die Linke)	The Rosa Luxemburg Foundation represents the fundamental intellectual current of democratic socialism. Denominational Fellowships
Funding	Description	Eligible Disciplines	Dates
Avicenna-Studienwerk	By awarding fellowships, the Avicenna-Studienwerk supports talented and socially committed Muslim students and doctoral candidates of all disciplines for two years (standard funding period). An extension is possible for professional reasons and/or due to childcare or disability (maximum funding period: four years).	All disciplines	April 1 (funding starts in the following winter semester) and October 1 (funding begins in the following summer semester).
Cusanuswerk (Kath. Kirche)	The Cusanuswerk e.V., the organization for the promotion of gifted researchers of the Catholic Church, awards fellowships to talented Catholic doctoral candidates in all disciplines except human medicine. Applicants should live their Catholic convictions actively and also in the context of church commitment. Doctoral candidates must be in the early careers of their doctoral studies. In case of a positive decision, the fellowship will initially be granted for one year . After submission of an expert opinion and a detailed work report showing that the doctorate can be completed within a second funding year,	All subjects except human medicine.	Applications must be submitted by February 01 or September 01 .

	the fellowship can be extended for another year. A third year may be requested in case of pregnancy or child rearing.
Evangelisches Studienwerk Villigst (Ev. Kirche)	The Evangelisches Studienwerk mainly supports doctoral candidates who belong to the Protestant Church. Exceptions are possible and must be justified in a letter of motivation. The Studienwerk requires that the doctorate can be completed in a total of two years . Funding in the third year (here half-yearly) can be applied for due to childcare or disability. Fellowship holders are encouraged to take part in the educational programme offered by the Studienwerk; for example, participation in one of two doctoral student meetings is obligatory in the first year of funding. Applicants should have completed their studies quickly with above-average academic and examination results. Doctoral candidates who have passed the age of 30 can only apply if the reasons for the late start of the doctoral studies are stated in the curriculum vitae.	Almost all disciplines. In human medicine, funding is only possible if the intended degree is Dr. rer. med.	Applications may be submitted by June 15 or December 15 .
ELES – Ernst Ludwig Ehrlich Studienwerk	The Ernst Ludwig Ehrlich Studienwerk (ELES) promotes particularly talented young Jewish scholars. In addition to material support, ELES also attaches great importance to non-material support: fellowship holders take part in the annual interdisciplinary Summer Academy. The participants, among them renowned scholars and representatives of public life, use the summer academy for an exchange about current social events and topics of the Jewish community. ELES also supports research stays abroad: In addition to travel grants and foreign allowances,	All disciplines	Applications can be submitted by May 31 and November 30 .

	fellowship holders can also apply for grants for tuition fees. Funding is also available for study-related internships and language courses. Applications are open to highly qualified doctoral researchers of all subjects who are German nationals, citizens of an EU member state, or who are German nationals. The doctorate must still be in the initial phase or still take two years (including Disputation/Rigorousum). Doctoral candidates must be able to demonstrate above-average school and study performance and be socially active, e.g. in Jewish communities, youth work or student organizations. Fellowship holders should take advantage of the offer of regular exchange with trusted lecturers in their region and participate in the alumni network after the end of the sponsorship.

PUBLICATION

Funding	Description	Eligible Disciplines	Dates
ADAMAS Stiftung Götz Hübner (Interkulturelle Studien Deutsch-Polnisch/Deutsch-Griechisch)	The Foundation supports scientific and literary projects that focus on the mutual relationship between German and Polish and between German and Greek literature.	Relevant for the topic	Mid-June (15.6.) of each year.
Axel-Springer Stiftung (Deutsch-jüdische Geschichte, Nationalsozialismus, Israel, DDR, Totalitarismus, Mediengeschichte und transatlantische Beziehungen)	One of the Axel Springer Foundation's funding priorities is to support young scientists. Here, mainly printing cost subsidies are awarded for the publication of very highly rated doctoral theses. Funding is provided primarily for dissertations on the topics of German-Jewish history, National Socialism, Israel, the GDR, totalitarianism, media history and transatlantic relations. Only in exceptional cases does the Foundation award grants for the printing of monographs or other publications. The recipients of the printing grants are mostly historians and political scientists as well as literary scholars.	Relevant for the topic (history, political science, literature)	Anytime (at least 4 months in advance)
Barbara-Wengeler-Stiftung (Vernetzung von Philosophie und Neurowissenschaften)	The Foundation awards printing grants for outstanding doctoral dissertations dealing with the interconnection and exchange between philosophy and the neurosciences (neurology, neurophysiology, neuropsychology, neuropsychiatry). All disciplines	The work must not be in print by the submission deadline of April 15 or October 15.

DFG: Publikationsbeihilfe	Within the framework of the publication grant, both print publications and paid e-books as well as open-access e-books can be funded. Funding for a combination of a print and electronic publication is possible. Publication grants are provided on the basis of two offers and justification of the choice of publisher or company. In addition, editing costs can now be funded. The DFG assumes that current technologies such as print-on-demand will be used when applying for print publications. Individual scientists' whose book publications do not result from DFG research funding are eligible to apply. For book publications resulting from DFG research funding, funds from the research projects can be used or funds can be obtained via the institutions as part of the Open Access Publication Costs programme.	All disciplines	Anytime
FAZIT-Stiftung	Priority consideration will be given to applications in which the applicant and supporters explicitly affirm that no support is available from elsewhere (e.g., parents/life partner/institute), that the requested funds will relieve a financial hardship of the applicant, and are thus essential as support for the degree sought.	All disciplines	Anytime
